

Summer Sunset Speaker Series

About the Series

Join us for five evenings of fun and fascinating presentations on native birds, snakes and extraordinary places on the Chattahoochee River and throughout Georgia.

Photograph by Gary M. Stolz

Enjoy light hors d'oeuvres and beverages on the Center's expansive deck overlooking the beautiful fields and forests along the river. Arrive early and picnic on the deck, beside the pond, or on the Choestoe meadow. Stroll to the water's edge, feel the soft summer breeze and welcome twilight on the Chattahoochee.

This program is FREE to the public, but reservations are required.

Please call 678-538-1280 with questions or to reserve a space.

Location	Chattahoochee River Environmental Education Center 8615 Barnwell Road Alpharetta, GA 30022 7:30 p.m.
Joe Cook Photographer May 18, 2004	Joe's incredible river images are the heart of his outstanding presentation which includes song and story of his 100 day canoeing adventure along the	540 mile Chattahoochee River. Meet the author of River Song and Wildflowers of the Appalachian Trail .
Jim Wilson Birds June 15, 2004	You won't want to miss this presentation given by Dr. Jim Wilson, neuro-physiologist turned avian author and photographer. A prestigious publisher, he is now the National Audubon	Society's Important Bird Areas Coordinator for Georgia. His new book is titled Common Birds of Atlanta .
Chris Hajaig Snakes July 20, 2004	Chris is an avid para herpetologist who has traveled many countries with the British Royal Navy. His past includes managing, ranging, and research on	many African species of snakes. Today, Chris remains passionate for increasing awareness and respect for snakes in Georgia.
Craig Tanner Photographer August 17, 2004	This Georgia native is recognized by national and regional publications for his photography of natural and cultural locations in the state of Georgia. He teaches classes at the Rocky Mountain	school of Photography as well as the Showcase school in Atlanta. Craig will be available after the presentation to sell and sign his book Georgia .
Charles Seabrook Author September 21, 2004	Award- winning natural science and environmental writer for the Atlanta Journal-Constitution for 30 years. Charles will be available after the pre-	sentation to sell and sign his new book: Cumberland Island: Strong Women, Wild Horses .
Series Sponsor	Friends of the Chattahoochee River is a non -profit organization cooperating with the Chattahoochee River National Recreation Area to further the	mission of the National Park Service. To become a member please call 678-538-1245.